School Assembly Program:

In this dynamic forty-five minute program, Fax uses interactive characters, skits, mime and magic illusions, visual aids and masks to illustrate what bullying behavior is, why it’s such a problem, and how to deal with it. Fax uses his ability to connect with kids developed through thousands of assembly programs and residencies to show how trust, respect, responsibility, fairness, caring and citizenship are an effective antidote to bullying behavior. This program will command your students’ and teachers’ attention and deliver a clear understanding of bullying behavior and how to transform it.

One-Day Character and Bullying Residency:

This one-day residency begins with the school assembly program described above. Then, for the rest of the morning, Fax will work with twelve students to create theater skits to further illustrate a deeper understanding of how enlivening character qualities can impact student behavior. These skits are lively, contain both humorous and poignant material, and are specifically selected for targeted age levels.

Family Fun Night:

An evening of knowledge and entertainment beginning with a presentation on Character and Bullying by Fax, followed by a performance of character and bullying skits by your students (this is optional). The evening concludes with an interactive thirty minute mime/magic concert. A great way to bring your school family together to introduce your school’s anti-bullying—character education initiatives--or just for fun.

Separate brochures are available for Fax’s State History Play, Library, Festival/Community, Corporate, and Creative Dramatics Residency Programs.
